Breakfast on the Beach

Here is something to pass the time at home as we can't meet in church at the moment – a story and some activities.

Story

Maybe this was the best breakfast anyone ever had.

After Jesus had died on the cross and risen again, some of his disciples didn't know what they should do next. So Simon Peter said, 'I'm going back to fishing, lads. Who's coming with me?' So they went out in their boat and they fished all night. But they caught nothing.

As dawn came up and the sky grew light they saw someone on the shore and he called to them, 'You don't have any fish, do you?' 'No,' they called back. 'Throw your nets on the right side of the boat,' said the man on the shore. And suddenly the net was full of fish, so many that they couldn't pull it in. Then John suddenly realised who it was and said to Peter, 'It is the Lord'. And Simon Peter jumped straight out of the boat and swam to the shore, leaving the others to bring the boat dragging the net.

When they got on the beach they saw that there was a charcoal fire and fish already cooking on it with some bread. 'Bring some of your fish, and come and have breakfast,' said Jesus. So they did.

And afterward Jesus and Peter had a private conversation, and Jesus asked Peter to look after the others, and those who would come to follow him. 'Feed my lambs,' he said. 'Look after my sheep.' And that is what Peter did.
